

The Coaching supervision Academy

We share with you some more events from the CSA community. Every professional working in the Coaching Supervision field is welcome, so join us and take the opportunity to develop your skills and network with colleagues in some great learning and networking spaces.

A quick note of thanks to all those who facilitated sessions or joined us to participate at our 2nd International Conference held earlier this month. Some of the comments we've received include:

"A brilliant success - well done to all involved!"

"It was a joy to be a part of your conference"

*"The conference was an inspiring and enriching experience.
I really enjoyed every session I attended"*

We have more of these events in development - look out for the newsletters and updates for details.

Contemplating leadership with Amanda Ridings

Two days of dialogue in Falkland, Fife

This event is an in-person 'breathing space' for a small group of leaders and practitioners, in which we'll reflect on our leadership practice and reconnect with our leadership spirit. Together, we'll:

Use pieces from Amanda's book, Weekly Leadership Contemplations, as a framework for exploring our leadership experiences; and enjoy the 'food for thought' generated by the sort of conversations with kindred spirits that may have recently been in short supply.

22-24 June 2022
(in person)

We'll gather for a light supper on the evening of Wednesday 22 June and spend time creating good conditions for the conversations that will follow. In four sessions, we'll explore the themes of self-leadership, leadership in conversations, leadership perspectives, and leading and learning.

Places are limited to ten.

Working with Metaphors in Supervision: a Clean Language Approach

Hosted by CSA Faculty Member Lynne Cooper

Metaphors are fundamental to language, offering a shorthand way of describing something in terms of another thing or experience.

This highly interactive webinar focusses on how to work Cleanly with supervisees' metaphors, how to elicit metaphors, and how not to influence others' metaphors. You'll practise tuning your ear for metaphors and symbols, ask Clean Questions, draw out and develop supervisee's metaphorical descriptions and pay close attention to language.

Mindfulness-Based Relational Supervision Available

This book explores a relational and mindfulness-based approach to adult learning and development that is mutually transformational.

The initial focus of the book is a case study that shows the evolution of a dialogical supervision relationship that was transformational for both parties. The authors present their reflections and analysis of key transformational moments that brought insights which significantly enhanced their personal and professional development.
