

Hi, If you live in the Northern Hemisphere, summer 2022 ended on August 31, and September 1 marks the beginning of Autumn (fall). Meteorologically, that is. If you are considering the astronomical definition, you have until the equinox on September 22 or 23, depending on your time zone, to enjoy the final days of summer.

For CSA colleagues in the Southern Hemisphere, September 1 is the start of your meteorological spring.

Wherever you are we hope this is time of anticipation, of new opportunities, connections and fulfilment for you all.

Celebrating 'face to face' events again!

We are delighted to share that our Coach Supervisor CPD programme continues to build and this Autumn we are making a return to live face to face events again. It's a small start but a sign of our commitment to bringing this much missed format back to the CSA community.

Exploring identity, creativity and spontaneity through MASKS

This CSA Exclusive event is facilitated by Steve Chapman. CSA promotes the principle of 'self as instrument' and views it as vital in the practice of coaching supervision, this session is all about attuning that unique instrument irrelevant of what tune it is playing or who is listening.

An Inquiry into Freedom, Spontaneity and Not Knowing with Steve Chapman

In this 3 hour online session, offered exclusively through CSA Steve will facilitate an immersive and experimental workshop, inviting participants to take a step back from the habitual patterns of every day life and ask ourselves - do any of us really know what we are doing. What happens if we gently let go of having to have a plan, a script, an answer and instead move towards a space of not knowing. And what are the implications of doing this in a coaching/supervision relationship?

This workshop is exclusively available through CSA and spaces are limited. Book your place Now!
